A COMIC STRIP

A comic strip is a fun way to express your ideas through words and images. It can also help understand concepts more clearly. Comic strips have three parts: the introduction (to present the story), the build-up (the middle section of the story), and the punchline (the unexpected and funny conclusion of any performance, story). Here are the elements of a comic strip

Illustration

The graphic representation or drawing of an idea
