

WORKSHEET N°9: GIVING ADVICE

En inglés existen varias formas para dar consejos a alguien más. En esta ocasión trabajaremos con solo 1 de ellas. Lee los recuadros atentamente y luego desarrolla los ejercicios de abajo.

SHOULD & SHOULDN'T

Una de las formas más utilizadas en inglés para dar consejos, es a través de los verbos modales SHOULD OR SHOULDN'T. En español, significa deberías y no deberías, respectivamente.

Hey, this house is a mess!

Well, we should get it cleaned!

I Item: Complete the following. Decide que consejo es más apropiado para cada situación. Une las letras con los consejos de la segunda columna.

A)	I want to be an actor.
B)	I am getting bad marks at school.
C)	I love eating, but I am fat.
D)	I am not very good writing in English.
E)	I am always late for school.
F)	I can't swim and I want to go to the pool.
G)	I never remember your phone number.
H)	I feel very tired.
I)	I don't understand biology.
J)	My friends laugh on me because I don't like pop music.
K)	I feel very good.
L)	I need vacations!

	You should study harder
	You should take swimming lessons.
	You should ask your teacher to explain it again.
	You should join to the drama club at school.
	You should sleep more
	You shouldn't keep eating that much
	You shouldn't go to see a doctor
	You should keep practice on writing
	You shouldn't worry about it. If they laugh, they are not real friends.
	You should write my number on your phone
	You should get up earlier.
	You should save money.

II Item: Write some advices. Escribe tus propios consejos. En el recuadro encontrarás frases útiles.

See a doctor – write a letter or make a drawing – call her – send her a present – take an aspirin
